WISDOMGAME® 2017

Hi. I'm Steve

There is a lot of information in this free report. The way to read it is first to skim every page to the end of the book, looking one by one at each page. Just look at the pages. By doing this your subconscious mind will be conditioned to receive and be open to change. If you want change in your life, you can't stay the same. If you want your on-going relationships to work better, don't expect your man to change. Your relationships will work better and you can get your man to work for that and to work for you. But first, you need to understand what men are really like, then you make a small change. There's nothing to fear in doing this.

The SECRET: Thumb through this book and look at each page. When you come to the last page you will find the secret in a bold box. Okay. Just turn there right now and read it.

IMPORTANT:

Did you go to the last page and read the secret? Do you agree with it? If you don't think it's true then just go on reading with it as a possibility. Here, you might want to ask yourself "Why would I care about using this information which obviously is presented by a stupid man?" Well, I am an empty, pudding-headed, good for nothing. I admit it. Yet, there is something you have to remember. You know the story of the young girl who climbed the mountain because she knew an old lady guru lived up there who had the answers to the mysteries of life. The young girl climbed and climbed and even one night had to bivouac on the side of the mountain. When she got to the guru's cave, the guru invited her in for tea.

"I'm so happy to be here," cried the girl. "I feel so good. I'm ready. I'm ready. It's so wonderful! Let me tell you. I feel wonderful. I'm in a great mood. Never better, blah blah."

The older lady kept pouring and pouring until the girl's cup over flowed.

"What!" cried the girl. "Stop!"

“You,” replied the guru, “are so full of yourself, like the tea cup, there is room for no more.”

BUT WAIT!

That’s not the secret in the box at the end of this free report. In no way do I mean to imply here that most men are empty vessels. In fact, what I’m saying is just the opposite. When one graduates from high school, they think they know everything. Soon, reality hits them like a ton of wet baby diapers. The same thing happens when a person graduates from the University. The head of corporate doesn’t care if you got an A in theater 109, you still start at the copy (read coffee) machine. Learning is a life- time venture. As we grow up, we’re filled with what our parents and siblings tell us is true. We learn from teachers and relatives who learned from their teachers and relatives. If one thinks they know everything, then why continue to learn?

If one knows it all, they won’t be open to learning anything new.

WAIT, WAIT, WAIT!

As you read this, I’m asking you to have an open mind. Look, I’m a special kind of stupido. I’m empty, vacant, and no good. I know that. But since I’m a man, I know men even better than a woman who has a medical degree or a Ph.D. in psychology. Okay, maybe not. Women are pretty smart. But in this report I’m going to tell you the truth about men. I’m going to show you how to get a relationship to work and also how to get a man, any man, to work for you. So please as you read, be an open chalice. Your mind is a Holy Grail which can only be filled if it’s prepared by being empty.

- FIRST MAJOR POINT

Men are full of it!

And in this case I don't mean knowledge. They are full of themselves. What one characteristic defines the type called "Macho?" Isn't it that they know that they know. They "know" what's right and wrong. They "know" all about what a woman wants. They know how to treat a women. They know who they are and what they are. They know that they know. Of course they're self-center. Of course, they're wrong. Tools can break, but they also can be used for work.

So okay.

What I want you to do is be open, be simply open. Understand that what you're reading is coming from a man's point of view and probably should be taken about as seriously as Don Juan. Together we'll charge ahead. If you've been knocked off the relationship windmill, or if you want to start fresh, as a woman you're smart so you can see that what you know, your intelligence, and what happens to you in life, your being, often are not exactly the same. That is sometimes, what you are and what you get are not equal to your knowledge.

IT TAKES ONE TO KNOW ONE

Understanding comes in the balance between knowledge and being. I'll show you what I mean. A weightlifter can develop their body to be super strong. That doesn't mean they have any knowledge of chemistry, mitosis, or muscle formation. Their being may be that of a super person, but their knowledge may not be. Alternatively, a weak person may study weight lifting, chemistry and so on but that's not going to grow their muscles. To really understand weightlifting one has to study the principals and also lift weights.

As a woman, you can't be a man. You can have knowledge of men, but you can't be a man. Since understanding is the balance of knowledge and being, how are you going to understand men? And if you don't really understand men, how are you going to make it work between you and your man. Let me show you.

LOOK THROUGH MY EYES

To understand men you need to look through the eyes of someone like me. I've been a lifeguard, a ladies shoe salesman, the manager of a pants store, a construction worker, a stock broker, an Alzheimer's care-giver, and an electrical contractor. Right now I'm a writer. Please feel free to email me Steve@wisdomgame.org.

What I'm not is a Doctor or a psychologist. They are so full of Freud, Jung, Maslow, Fritz Pearls, and Carl Rogers that they can't see the forest for the trees. That is, they want to change you to be a better man. I don't want you to be a man. I want you to be a woman, to be who you are. I'm only here to expose these because I think it's a damn shame men and women can't get along better. Like any man, I'm full of it, but I'm not full of theories and postulates and how you "should" or "shouldn't be," or how men "should" treat you or how you "ought" to treat men. I'm going to let you look through my eyes so you can feel what a man feels, so you can see what it's like to be a man. By doing this you will come to understand men so you will know about them and know what it's like to be them.

"man-secrets"

YOU CAN'T GET THERE FROM HERE

There's an old joke. A youngish lady around 40 sets out to sell her wares in Rome. She stops at the crossroad. All the signs point to Rome. A young girl is milking a cow.

"Say miss, all the signs point to Rome. Which one is the shortest?"

"Oh," replies the milkmaid, "all roads do lead to Rome." She sighs. "But you can't get there from here."

"Why not?"

"Well, it's because you can only go half way on each trip. You'll never arrive, you can only go half way.

"Hump! I'd better get started!"

DON'T THINK RIGIDLY

Living is a series of progressive changes. When one thinks they know, this is like only being able to go half way to Rome. Of course you can get to Rome. Of course you can have a beautiful relationship. You can have a relationship that works and you can get a man to work for you. The trick is you have to start. If you don't take the path, you'll certainly never get to Rome. Take a chance on yourself. You can have a new love, one that strives for that relation to work.

GO TO THE END OF THIS EBOOK AND READ THE SECRET IN THE BOX.

THE TROUBLE WITH MEN IS FIXATION

When a person is identified with what they are, they are fixated and unbendable. Everyone knows a tree that bends in the wind won't break. Most men are fixated on the idea that they are the head of the household, the head honcho, or the bread winner, the provider, the king of the household, or some other type authority figure.

- SECOND MAJOR POINT

Opposites Attract.

If you experiment with little barrel magnets you'll discover that when put together the South poles will repel the South Poles. The North poles repel the North Poles. Magnetic poles that are alike repel each other. Opposite poles attract. Be different from your man. If he's fixed, you be flexible. Be able to bend. That way you won't break.

Men are rigid, stupid and full of themselves.

You're never going to change them. You can't change women either. There is no way to change anyone else. There is no way to teach an adult anything new unless they want to learn, and even then they have to learn on their own. The only person you can change is you. The point here is this: If you are rigid and identified with your particular role, situation, position, then you are just another stupid, rigid person.

I'm the stupid one. I'm a man!

But if you are rigid, hard and inflexible then you are exactly the same as a man and therefore whatever man you want to be with will sooner or later be repelled. Like repels like. Opposites attract. So be supple.

YOU MUST BE FLEXIBLE

I'm not trying to change women, nor in this report am I trying to change you. Lord knows you can't change men. You're intelligent. You know really all you can do is to find as good a man as you can, make the relationship work and make the bum get out and work for you.

If you can be open to the information that is being presented here, you'll soon see why your previous relationships may not have been as good as possible. You'll understand men and you'll discover how to get what you want out of a man, to get what you want out of your relationship with him.

DROP THE FANTASY

I'm just a stupid man. I know nothing about women. I do know men pretty good and I know boys don't read fairy tales, and men don't read romance novels, or any novels for that matter. Most men are glued to a flat screen, a beer in their hands expressing themselves by screaming at the TV. They want to see some cheerleader butt or leg. They don't give a damn about riding off on a white horse. Since fantasy and dreamy romance novels sell like hot cakes, it must be women who are buying them. Men don't.

Seems like a simple deduction: If you're dreaming about the perfect relationship where a beautiful man carries you off on a white horse to his tent on the sand, that's good. I appreciated that. Dreaming is wonder-filled.

But most men hate that and call it crap. MOST MEN ARE STUPID BRUTES whose minds think okay but whose emotions stopped growing at about 6 years. Later, I'll explain why and how that will benefit you. Right now do this :

GO TO THE FINAL PAGE OF THIS E-BOOK AND READ THE SECRET IN THE BOX

YOU'RE SMART. You have already figured this out! You know it's true.

- THIRD MAJOR POINT

RELATIONSHIPS A HALL OF MIRRORS.

If you agree with the secret in the box at the end of this report then the following is going to make a lot of sense. If not, follow along with an open mind. All I ask is you be an open vessel, the Holy Grail to yourself. "Men are not emotional. And women are not intelligent." Where have I heard this before? Let me see, every day at school and in the media and on television. It's changing a little now but most people grew up with the concept of "dumb blondes" and "guys that can't cry".

Our beliefs about men and women are somewhat like a hall of mirrors. This sort of dates me, because there aren't many halls of mirrors anymore, but you may have been in one as a kid. The mirrors distort you and direct you in wrong directions until finally you see an opening to get out. Right then you bump into a clear pane. Ouch!

Very young girls are much more boisterous, loud and obnoxious than young boys of the same age. They mature sooner, are stronger and more athletic than boys their age. At the same time boys are naturally quieter, more timid, and shyer than girls of the same age. Society trains girls to be seen and not heard. Society says they must be ladies. Ladies don't scream and rant and run around. Boys are trained to be brave, to be athletic, to strive—to be soldiers in the market place. We train people not to be themselves. Why? Is it because we need house wives and soldiers. Or because we can't leave well enough alone. Why? Why?

WHY'S ARE THE PROVIDENCE OF KIDS

A kid always asks. "Why, why, why, why?" until the adult gets pissed off and finally says, "Okay, why?" And then the kid replies, "Why not!" At least, that's how I remember it. Of course my nick name growing up was Alec. Smart Alec.

I'm stupid--that's just the way it is. I'm a man! Society trains kids like it does most likely because in the past men thought women were dumb and women thought men were not emotional. When in fact that is just the way society has inculcated all of us. Women are trained to be emotional, to express emotions. Men are trained not to show emotions. Men are trained to show how intelligent they are. Women are trained to hide their intelligence. Okay, so why does that matter? Wait . . . not why again?

I mean, so what?!

You can see into your man, or your new man, if you understand he is untrained emotionally. A man has a natural depth of emotions, but is untrained. Literally, he can't control himself. A woman is vastly more intelligent, but she never gets a chance to express this. This has been changing recently. Women are more intelligent than men but men keep them down. In general, women will not be allowed to be trained intellectually until men are trained emotionally and drop their fear of women. (RE-READ THE SECRET BOX AT THE END OF THIS EBOOK) It's true:

YOUR MAN OR NEW MAN IS A DELICATE FLOWER

Now, you may be saying to yourself "this author really is a stupido." First he says MEN ARE BRUTES, and now he's saying they are tiny hurting things that haven't learned to express emotions. What's the truth?

- FOURTH MAJOR POINT

Everything changes.

Truth itself isn't fixed.

This might not seem important to you. Being intelligent, you might be like the ancient alchemists looking for the philosopher's stone and saying, "just give me the secret formula to corral a man, put my stamp on him and get him hitched up to plow!"

THE ABOVE POINT IS THE SECRET FORMUAL.

SINCE EVERYTHING CHANGES—THE MAN YOU'VE GOT WILL CHANGE AND THE NEW MAN YOU'RE GOING TO GET WILL BE DIFFERENT. YOU CAN MAKE A RELATIONSHIP WORK AND YOU CAN GET A MAN TO WORK FOR YOU IF YOU JUST REMEMBER THIS ABOUT MEN: MEN CAN GROW UP.

Men have been trained not to have emotions and not to express emotions. Because of this they don't know how to express themselves. They are afraid.

A PROTOCOL OF HOW ANGER ARISES:

- FEAR CAUSES REPRESSED EMOTIONS →
- REPRESSED EMOTIONS LEAD TO CONFUSION →
- A CONFUSED EMOTIONAL SYSTEM LEADS TO DISORDER →
- DISORDER LEADS TO FRUSTRATION →
- FRUSTRATION LEADS TO ANGER →
- ANGER LEADS TO LASHING OUT →
- FIFTH MAJOR POINT
EVERYONE WANTS ATTENTION.

Let's say you're at a coffee shop sitting around a table with three or four of your good girl friends. As a woman you know the way you relate is one person expresses a feeling and this causes another woman to feel something and sometimes she relates circumstances and causes another woman to feel something about which she may relate.

Men don't work like this. There is a logical progression in men's conversation. Subject A brings up subject B and that brings up subject C. Incidents are related not according to feeling, rather according to the progression of thought, often trying to provide a solution to a particular problem on the table, not to a feeling presented.

From the cradle to the grave, women and men crave attention. It is a type of food, without which we literally fade away.

Once you see this and know this, the door to fantastic relationships is open to you. It's a small price to pay to have friends. The cost for a working relationship, to get a working relationship and to get anyone to work for you, is to pay attention. And even if you have to pretend, you must pay attention and complement a man on his intelligent ability to solve your problems. A horse solves the problem of the woman at the plow, doesn't it?

Men need to be trained emotionally.

This is a delicate operation because you being innately more intelligent . . . you can't say, for instance, you "know more than him." Because although he is a stupid brute, he has been trained that men are more intelligent than women. You have to be delicate and remember that when his emotions become confused that will cause him to feel disordered inside. Unable to express himself he will become frustrated, and that frustration will lead to anger.

So . . .

STEP BY STEP YOU NEED TO SLOWLY TRAIN YOUR MAN TO FEEL AND TO EXPRESS FEELINGS.

DON'T COMPETE WITH HIS INTELLIGENCE. YOU ARE MUCH SMARTER THAN HIM. Smart people know they are intelligent and don't have to convince anyone.

Ask yourself this: Do you want to have a lasting relationship that works and a man that works for you, or do you want to show you're smarter than him?

Realize also that while your emotions are developed and you enjoy expressing them, he doesn't know how.

If you experience anger and rage from him, it is only because he is untrained in how to express his real feelings and this is causing him disorder, confusion, and pain. Be a gentle teacher of your man, but never let him know you are training him. Have a deep faith that everything is going to work out and it will. Believe in your own intelligence to figure out how to make the relationship and him work. Bring him up slowly to feel and to express his feelings. When this happens you will both experience a deep and lasting love for each other.

Remember, to get anyone to love you, to have a relationship work, to get a man to work for you, you simply have to be aware of their wants and needs. It's not much of a price. The key is to be easy going, ask and pay attention.

I hope this short e-book has been interesting and helped you, at least a little bit, to understand men. I apologize for being so stupid. Thanks for reading.
